BOURBON

WELCOME TO WILLOW CREEK DISTILLERY'S SIGNATURE BOURBON—A CROWD FAVORITE AGED IN SMALL 20-GALLON AMERICAN OAK BARRELS FOR MAXIMUM CHARACTER.

Just like our acclaimed Straight Bourbon, the Willow Creek Bourbon is distilled from a mash of corn, barley and rye. After mashing and fermentation, it is matured for 12 months in new heavily charred American oak barrels. Head Distiller Kevin Coulton matures our Bourbon in smaller 20-gallon barrels, amplifying the liquid-to-barrel surface area for accelerated maturation and oak integration.

- Distilled at Willow Creek Distillery in Paso Robles on the California Central Coast
- Base spirit made from corn, barley, and rye
- Aged for one year in 20-gallon American oak barrels
- 90 Proof / 45% ABV / 750ml / $55

DISTILLER'S TASTING NOTES

"We created this spirit as a companion to our more limited Straight Bourbon, so that we could keep the bourbon vibes rolling all year long. The recipe and distilling methods are identical, but with a shorter aging period in these smaller barrels. The result is a craft bourbon that is incredibly smooth and approachable. It offers a clean whiskey bite with robust fruity flavors and sweet undertones. The barley and rye bring a touch of spice and nuttiness, while the barrels impart hits of vanilla and caramel cream."
